

By age 10, Brandi Kneedly wanted to be everything! A private eye, journalist, lawyer, ice-cream truck driver, fashion designer, pro-softball player, and whatever else a bright smiling, wide-eyed, dreamer could cook up. She soon discovered how she could be all those and more. Filled with an imagination so colorful and limitless, she learned the gift of storytelling. She turned her diaries into poems, dreams into books, and visions into uniquely designed shirts. Poems of an Artsy Smartsy 10-Year-Old, shares how the life of a storyteller begins. And at the end of this book, you can create your very own story, too!
